Advisor notes

Paul knows what he is talking about and he has clearly shown his experience in helping companies and teams build products. He is experienced in helping teams start small and grow, focus on goals and build the right product through experiments and Increments that adhere to a Definition of Done. Paul is looking for a mid-size company (a few hundred people) where he could work with other Scrum Masters / Agile Coaches. He is not looking for a SAFe environment or a project manager role.
